A National College Enrichment Program

Virtual Financial Industry Mentors Internship

Who We Are:

TrustNavigator is a not for profit organization offering career enrichment internships and programs. The goal of the internships is to offer students the tools to be successful to matriculate into successful careers. To accomplish this goal, we provide internships, reward driven work related projects and introductions to mentors in potential areas of career interest. This program is virtual to give access to students worldwide. Ongoing campus events and the internship curriculum assist college students to apply life skills thru experiential learning, expanding value as citizens on campus, and learning networking skills.

Why work with us:

Do you want an experience that you cannot get anywhere else? Do you want legitimate projects that are truly relevant to your career goals? We have designed our internship program to provide this! This is an experience to understand and network in the financial industry. You will work with our staff and network with industry mentors if you are focused on a career not a scavenger hunt for a job. If you are a highly-motivated individual with high moral aptitude who is looking to gain knowledge, experience and the skills to network, then this is the perfect internship for you!

Internship Description:

The Virtual Financial Mentorship Internship will be offered virtually through an engaging, experiential online platform and weekly conference calls. Our 10-week internship is offered in the fall, spring, and summer. Weekly conference calls with Financial industry executives in multiple disciplines creates connections in industry while participating in a national marketing and sponsorship programs used on college campuses. The course exposes students to weekly call with experienced executives in all disciplines of the financial industry to learn industry language, job definitions and professional career paths of different disciplines. The objective is to develop skill sets to enter the workforce. You will learn networking and interview skills from the tutoring experience of seasoned financial executives. Some of the disciplines are: Real Estate, Investment Banking, Private Equity, Research Analyst, Portfolio Manager, Sell Side Broker, Investment Advisor.

You will:

- Discuss a financial sector weekly with an experienced executive
- Complete and be assessed on weekly projects that will build your understanding of industry
- Complete projects complimentary to weekly subjects with 2-3 hour commitments

Compensation:

This internship is an apprenticeship in the financial industry. The internship includes weekly calls with experienced veterans of the industry with direct access to these individuals both for networking, mentorship and career advisory in the field. The apprenticeships are designed for those without or little industry experience to get a “first exposure” with quality oversight and fully compliant with all Department of Labor standards to learn the industry. Inexperienced applicants should not expect to be compensated to learn the skills necessary to enter employment, while those that progress may move into compensated roles. Individual sessions with advisors are part of the program to create a potential plan to employment.
